New Advisory Board Member for SC Fuels

ORANGE, Calif. -- (February 2, 2007) – SC Fuels announced today that Dr. Anil Puri, Dean of the College of Business and Economics at Cal State Fullerton, has joined its Advisory Board of Directors. SC Fuels, a leader in the petroleum marketing industry, established an Advisory Board of Directors to gain senior-level counsel and an independent perspective on an array of strategic, operational and financial issues.

“We’re thrilled to have attracted such an accomplished scholar on our board,” said Frank Greinke, the company’s chairman and chief executive officer. “His experience, expertise and insight will be an invaluable asset as we take the company to the next level.”

Dr. Anil Puri has been the Dean of the College of Business and Economics at California State University, Fullerton since 1998. The College is the largest AACSB accredited business school in California with approximately 8,000 students, 150 full-time and approximately 125 part-time faculty members. During Dr. Puri’s tenure, the College successfully renewed its AACSB accreditation and has set university fundraising records. The College has restructured its MBA curriculum, added new undergraduate business concentrations, and developed cross-disciplinary programs with other colleges in the university. Over 50 New tenure track faculty members were hired in the last eight years.

The Advisory Board of Directors meets with company executives on a quarterly basis, assisting management in a variety of capacities. (Individual members also consult and help troubleshoot on specific issues.) The Board scrutinizes the company’s financial performance, evaluates its strategic direction, and offers solutions to an array of operational and business development challenges.

“Our board members are high-powered individuals who won’t hesitate to confront us, and who are not afraid to share their candid opinions,” said Greinke. “We’re getting some of the best advice available.”

The other members of the Board are Gary Brinderson, of Brinderson Companies, and Daniel J. Lubeck of Solis Capital Partners.
